

Information on fish, shellfish or other aquatic organisms

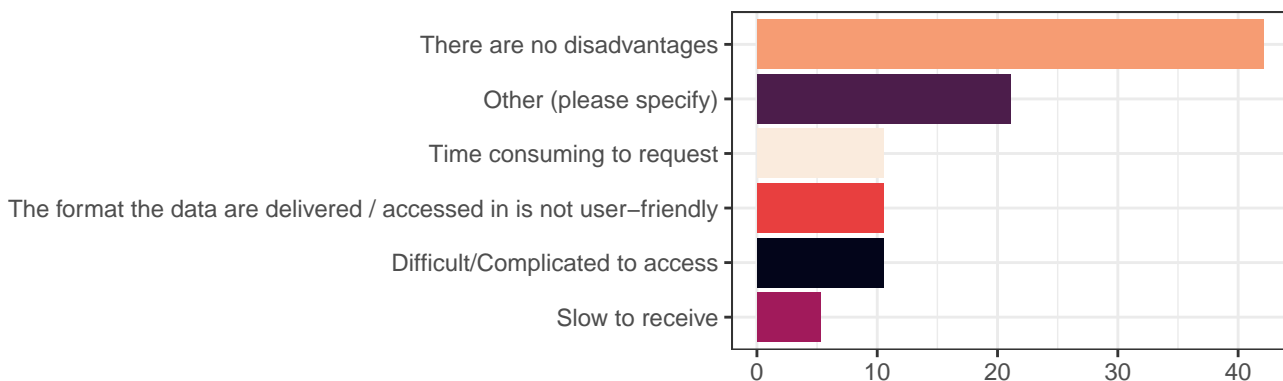

How do you most frequently obtain or access these data?

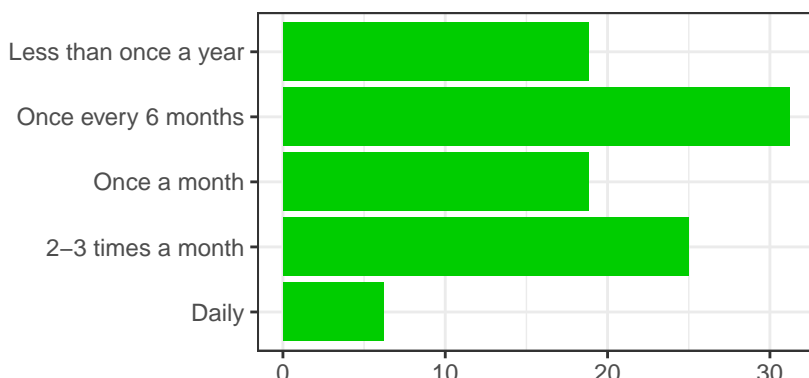

What are the advantages of this primary method of accessing or obtaining these data?

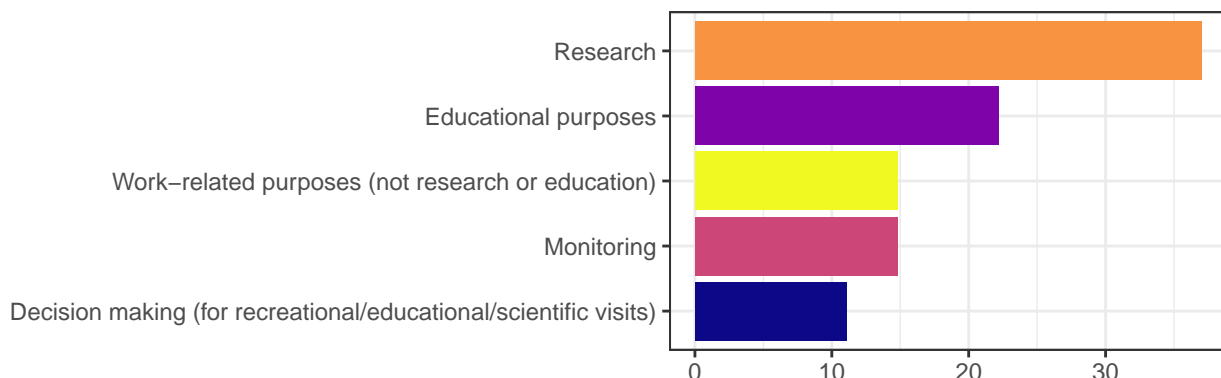

What are the disadvantages of this primary method of accessing or obtaining these data?

How often do/did you access or obtain these data?

What do you typically use these data for?

How well do these data generally satisfy your need(s)?

